Important information about the Barmenia World Policy

Barmenia
EINFACH. MENSCHLICH.

You are pregnant? Congratulations to you!

Then you might have a lot of questions. Barmenia would like to accompany and assist you during this exciting time.

This leaflet will provide you with information on the most important benefits before, during and after your pregnancy. Generally, claims for reimbursement are only possible for the costs arising from a medically necessary treatment.

Prenatal care – Safety for you and your baby

- > Gynecological examinations circa every four weeks, up to the 32nd week of pregnancy, thereafter every two weeks until delivery.
- > Ultrasound examinations (once between the 9th and 14th week of pregnancy, once between the 19th and 22nd week of pregnancy, and once between the 29th and 32nd week of pregnancy).

Diagnosis options before birth (prenatal diagnosis)

Compared to a regular pregnancy, high-risk pregnancies may require more frequent and extensive examinations. In this case we kindly ask you to submit to us all medical results confirming the diagnosis of a high-risk pregnancy. Thus we are able to narrowly review to which extent you are eligible for benefits and to ensure that you are informed about your options at any given time. This is especially important as there is always a possible risk that some of the treatments used include methods not scientifically proven. In these cases we cannot provide any insurance coverage. Therefore, we kindly ask you to contact us every time before accepting and initiating any treatment. This way we can guarantee your benefits. For further information consult the guidelines of the Federal Committee of Physicians and Health Insurances for medical assistance during and after pregnancy („maternity guidelines“).

Midwife assistance

Reimbursement of costs during pregnancy:

- > Check-ups
- > Pregnancy-related problems
- > General counseling of pregnant women
- > On-call service fees for midwives up to a maximum of EUR 300.00

Reimbursement of costs after delivery:

- > Monitoring of the postnatal period
- > Counseling, medically necessary care and care of mother and child
- > Breastfeeding advice
- > Daily visit by the midwife until the 10th day after birth

For any additional visits, treatment guarantee (pre-authorization) from Barmenia is necessary.

Note

A doula is not a midwife since she does not have a medical education. Services billed by a doula will not be refunded.
